Unskilled Labor.

He learned to woo in a courtship school;
He got it all down by rote and rule;
He knew when to smile and when to sigh,
He learned how to use a twinkling eye;
And then he was cut out by a fool—
A fool who had never studied art,
Who merely obeyed a thoughtless heart,
And when it came to a chance to woo,
Did the foolish things it told him to!

YOUNG MAYSVILLE MERMAID SWAM THE OHIO RIVER

To Miss Evelyn Smith, the very young and handsome daughter of Mrs. Lila Hall Smith, Kentucky's gifted novelist, now of this city, belongs the medal of honor for having accomplished the daring feat, for a young girl, of swimming the Ohio River, from shore to shore.

Miss Evelyn performed this "stunt" yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock, when she swam the river from the C. & O. depot on the Kentucky side of the river to the bathing beach on the Ohio side.

Mr. Henry Edgar Pogue accompanied her in a skiff, but she swam every stroke of the way without assistance. Another unique feature of the feat was that Miss Evelyn did not change her stroke during the entire time she crossed the river—about 20 minutes.
